THE PRE-UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

EASTER REVISION

For over 25 years, A-level and GCSE students have joined our highly successful Easter Revision courses at University of Oxford, and have left with a clear focus for further study, greater understanding of their subjects and greater confidence for the challenges ahead.

With public examinations only weeks away, our courses place the greatest emphasis on your specific academic needs.

Our programmes at A2, AS and GCSE focus on revision through exam practice and close personal support, key features being:

- full review of the exam syllabus in question
- focus on elements of study that you find difficult
- exam technique
- daily written work and feedback on the questions attempted

Teaching takes place in small groups and through individual tuition, where you can choose your topics and units for close detailed study.

Since 1972, our full-time, year-round college has looked after some 150 students each year. With individual tuition as our main method of teaching, we have taken our students to levels of success they had not thought possible in earlier, group-based study.
