

University of Oxford - Botanic Gardens

On Saturday 13th May, our students paid a visit to the Botanic Gardens which belong to the University of Oxford. We had a great time exploring all the different plants in the green houses – from the Mimosa Pudica fern, to water lilies and enormous cacti!

We also enjoyed wondering around the gardens in the sunshine, spotting flowers and plants of all shapes, sizes and colours! While walking around, we even spotted a baby moor hen – a first for all involved – which truly made it feel like Spring had indeed sprung!

After our visit to the Botanic Gardens, our students all bought ice creams and ate them as we walked around Magdalen College, which is one of the largest colleges in the University of Oxford.

We'd like to thank Magdalen for hosting us – it was inspirational for our students to visit the magnificent grounds, the medieval cloisters and the enormous deer park!
