

CIFE College Challenge

04.03.2017

Students from Sixth-Form colleges all over the country gathered at the New College of the Humanities last weekend (04/03) to compete in the prestigious CIFE College Challenge, a University Challenge-style quizzing event. The 'College Challenge' 2017 attracted over 50 of the brightest minds to London this year, and we are proud to have taken part.

Our team of five included Lily, Basim, Pengzhou, Chris and Harry. Each student played an active role in the team, and was equipped with specialist knowledge; Harry and Lily were our literature, culture and film experts, Pengzhou specializes in Maths and Music, Basim was our Science expert and Chris put his knowledge of Economics and Current Affairs into action. This division of labour enabled our team to answer a wide range of questions, to a high standard. All students at the events did amazingly well, including our own team who achieved 4th place, out of 11.

Our team shone not only in the academic sphere, but in its spirited approach; our quiz team members cheered each other on, and supported each other's success. This too is a mark of our team's excellence.

CIFE is a professional organisation of Sixth-Form colleges, of which Cherwell is an active member. We would like to thank them for organising the Quiz event!

Cherwell College would also like to thank our resident quizzing expert, Arka, for his hard work in preparing our students for the upcoming quiz. Arka helped our students to both build their knowledge bases and confidence, which certainly affected our overall performance.

Lastly, we'd like to offer our congratulations to our Quiz participants, Lily, Chris, Harry, Pengzhou and Basim!
